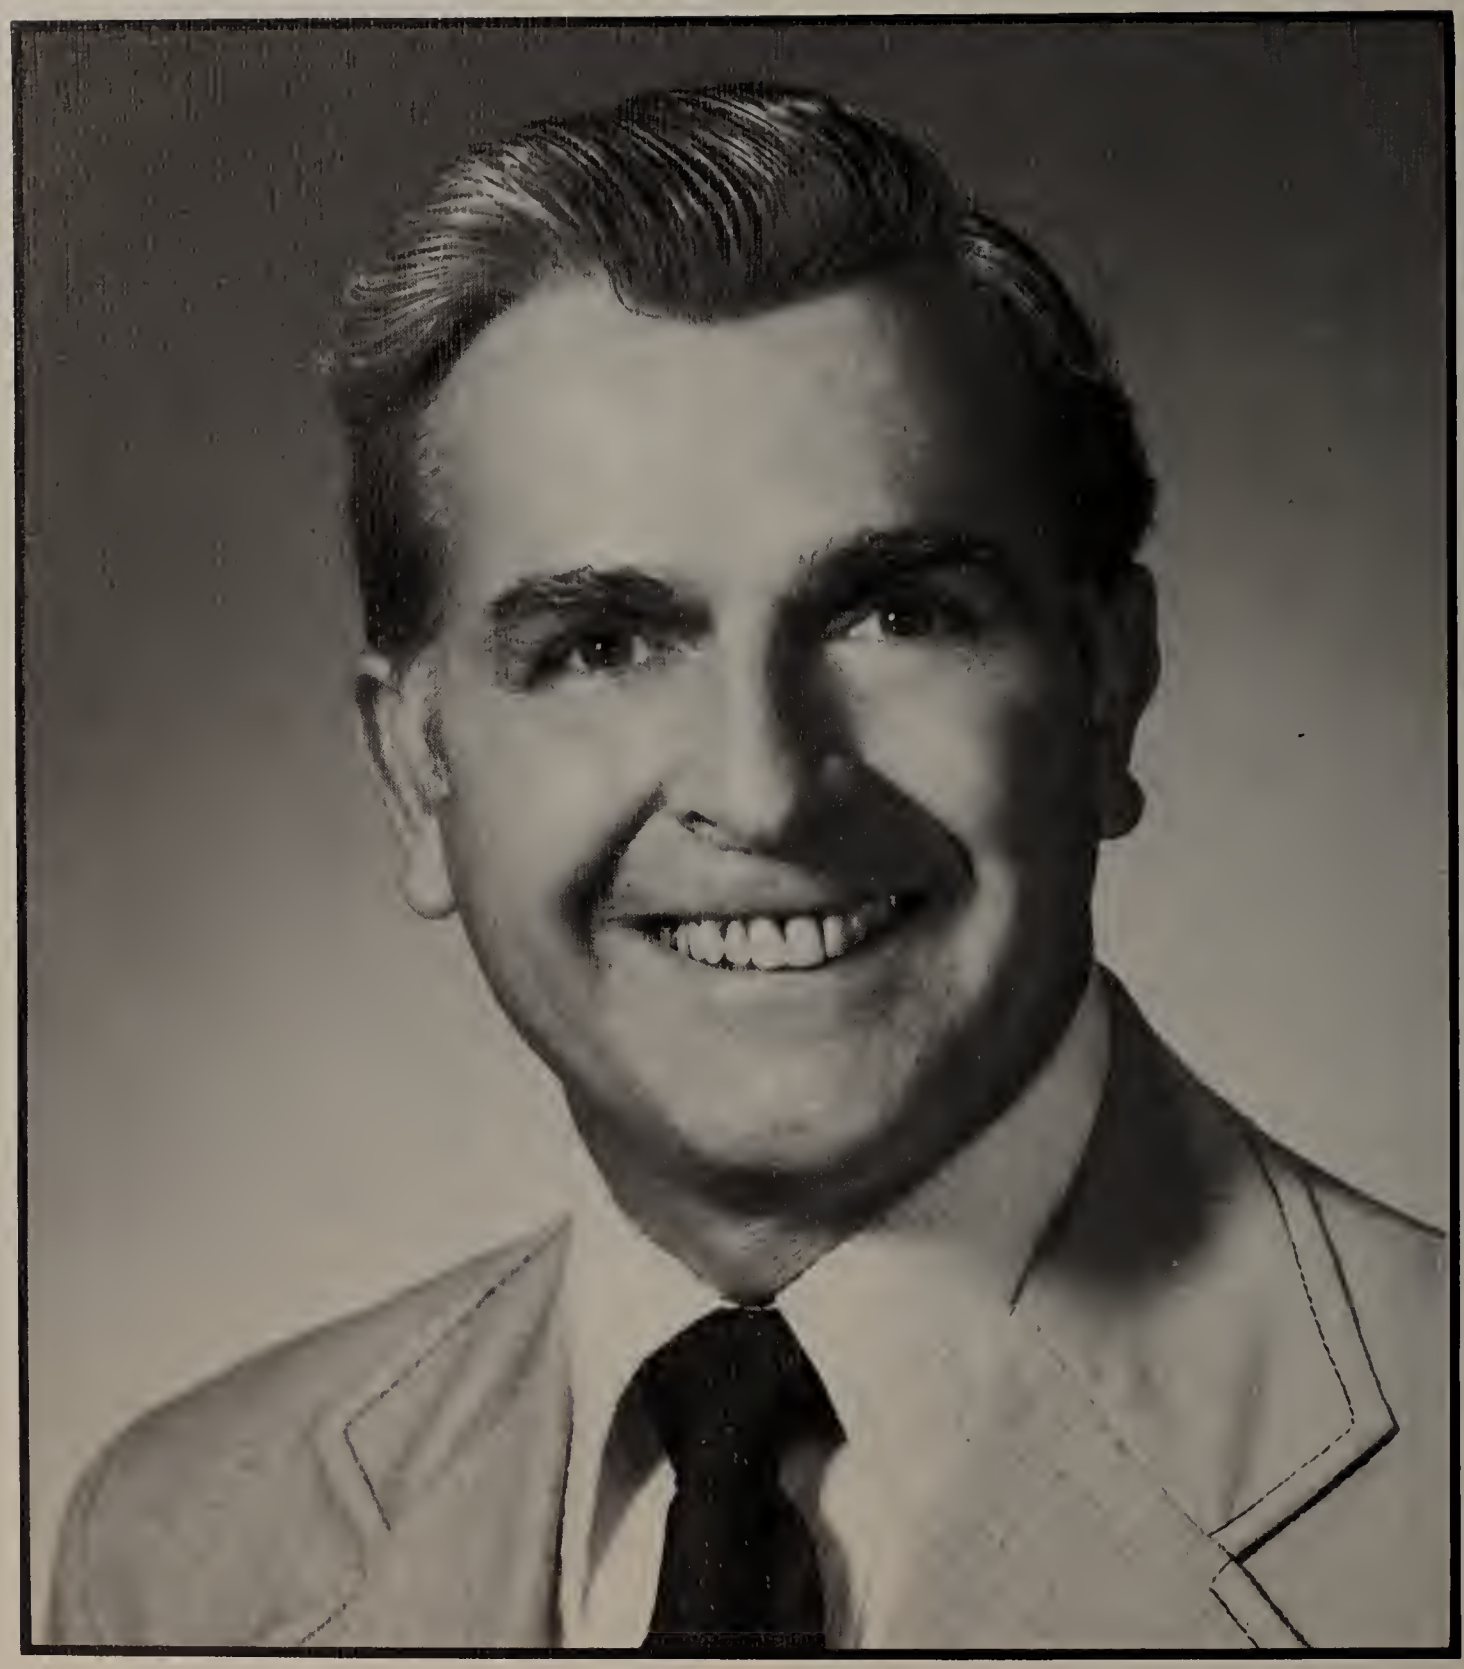
Wachusett Regional High School



Mr. Lengas: an educator unique in character. For the past 20 years he has enhanced Wachusett's atmosphere with his "sky blue pink," "gee willikers" and various catchy pet names. Behind all these baffling linguistics, Mr. Lengas is a man of kindheartedness and true devotion. He has always kept himself involved as coach, advisor and teacher in addition to twelve years of dedication to the publication of the yearbook.

Mr. Lengas will aways be remembered for the service he has given the Wachusett appetites with his sales of candy bars, coke, Goobers and Raisinets.

For these reasons, and many more, the Class of 1976 wishes to dedicate their yearbook to Harry Lengas.

Yearbook Message from the Superintendent of Schools 1976

A year ago, a GAZETTE editorial entitled "High School Consumers Speak" described students and recent graduates of two area high schools publicly registering constructive criticism of their schools. I should like to ask you to do the same. Our guidance office will ask your evaluation of your high school preparation one year and five years from now. But you don't have to wait for their questionnaire! Your comments in this case won't help you personally, but they will help those students who follow you, as post graduates' comments have helped us improve things for you.

Looking farther afield, we urge you to make your reactions known by means of CONSTRUCTIVE criticism - courteously, diplomatically, but candidly - to ANY organization which provides a service to you either as a public agency or for a price. Doing your share involves not only helping provide services, but also helping those who decide WHAT services to provide and HOW. Many of us do listen! Consumerism can be a positive force as well as a negative one.

We wish you happiness, the sleep which follows honest labor, the satisfaction of having created something of quality, and the peace which comes from within.

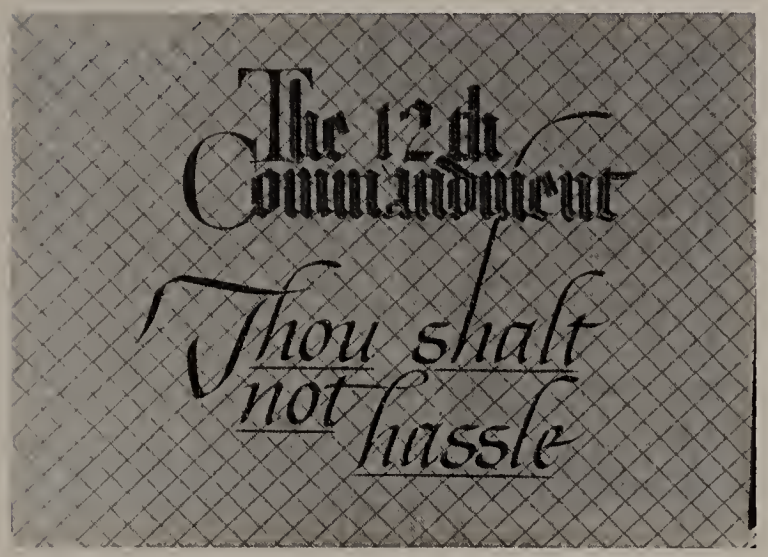
ADMINISTRATION



Dear Members of the Class of 1976

Your graduation from Wachusett Regional High School will coincide within a month to the two-hundredth anniversary of your country's birth. And, not unlike that declaration of independence of two centuries ago, you, too, will be setting out over unchartered ground - full of hope, idealism, and faith in your own potential for growth. And like that fledgling nation, you will be judged, not by a single event, but by the sum total of the quality of the years that will follow. And yet, we too often lose sight of the years previous to our own personal declaration of independence - the years of growth, of learning, and of testing the limits of our own potential. Hopefully, you will be able someday to look back beyond the milestone of your graduation day and find fond memories of your years spent at Wachusett. For no declaration of independence can really be made to stand without a background of supportive teaching and leadership be it by parents, teachers, or friends.

It is my sincere hope that these years spent at Wachusett have broadened your horizons, expanded your vision of the world around you, and provided a solid base for the declaration you are making with the presentation of your high school diploma. It is my sincere wish that you find happiness in the years ahead and, in that happiness, success in whatever endeavor you choose.

Keep in touch.

Very truly yours,

Harold M. Lane, Jr.

For Kenny
and Miki

Until we meet again
my friends
Let it not be a tragic end.
Let us never say goodbye and hope that no more will we cry.
Thinking of you, our friends,
Can make us sad,
But because of your friendship
We all should be glad.

You both will live on in our lives forever,
And memories of you will leave us never.

Micki
All the days,
all the years.
Survived by a special girl's tears.
Sunshine and moonlite —
Heat wave and frostbite,
God gave these to Micki
Boys and girls and animals —
All could be called the special girl's pals.
Laughing and crying —
Living and dying
God gave these to Micki.

Sports and games and fun for all — Someone to break this special girl's fall.
Church and school —
the Golden Rule —
God gave these to Micki
All her family, her lovers and friends — the special girl's hope never ends. Heaven and Kenny — the love of so many — God gave these to Micki

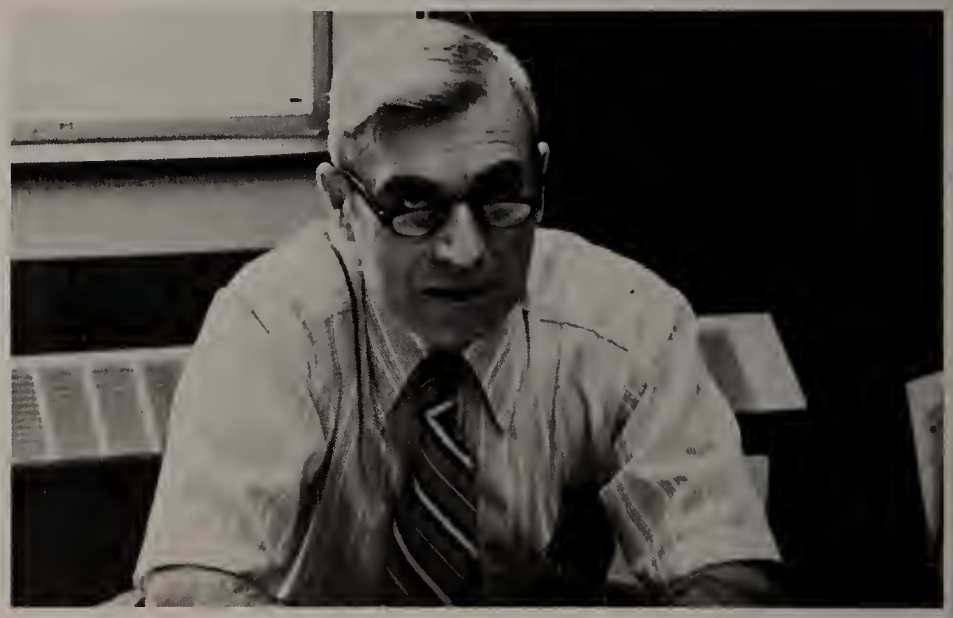
In Memory

Henry S. Miles

After 18 years at Wachusett, eight of those as Director of Guidance, Mr. Miles has enriched our school years with his knowledge and humor. A many-faceted individual, he will always be remembered for his strength of character and his concern for the students whom he referred to as "scholars."



If there were balm in tears, my own would flow,
For such a gentle man has left this place
A world so desperate in its need to know
His deep compassion for the human race.
But there is much to solve and life is brief,
And we are too aware it is man's fate
To sing his elegies of praise or grief
Always, in shame, with love a little late.

What then is left to soften our despair?
Only a renaissance, a pledge unfurled
That each man's burden will be ours to share
And peace and love create a better world
If such a memorial can truly be Death has not gained a final victory.

Ours were the years of transition and diversity . . .

We were swept into the tide of corrupt Watergate politicians, inflated economists, and Euell Gibbons back-to-nature freaks while Jaws became master of water and mind.

Waiting to devour us all

At the same time Wachusett displayed its courage as V-D Day films, arena scheduling, and gleeps, nerds, and turkeys filled the atmosphere.

As streaking became stripped of its charm, the MOON, Dr. Demento, and Monty Python took its place while the "wacky weed" maintained force.

Fashions brought in stumbling high-rise platforms and down-to-earth Earth shoes, electrifying afroes and fluctuating skirt lengths, while colorful flowers, birds, and stripes decorated the school's walls in an attempt to enlighten student thought.

Looking back . . .
as freshmen

Small,
overpowered,
disoriented . . .

Yet a part of the main . . .

A necessary element to make the big senior . . . big.

Self-confident, headstrong sophomores . . .

Leaders in school spirit and D-Hall attendance . . .

Relieved to have outgrown the freshman image but still shadowed by the upperclassmen

Sophisticated upperclass juniors . . .

Thrilled with the acquirement of privilege and new freedoms such as listening to the juke box during relaxed studies.

A year full of U.S. history courses, SAT's and visions into the future . . .

Realizing that there's only one more year left to stick it out . . .

Finally the apex of high school . . .
senioritis

Along with it,
the frustrations of college applications and rejections.

But most of all . . .

Friendships, reflections, and memories . . .

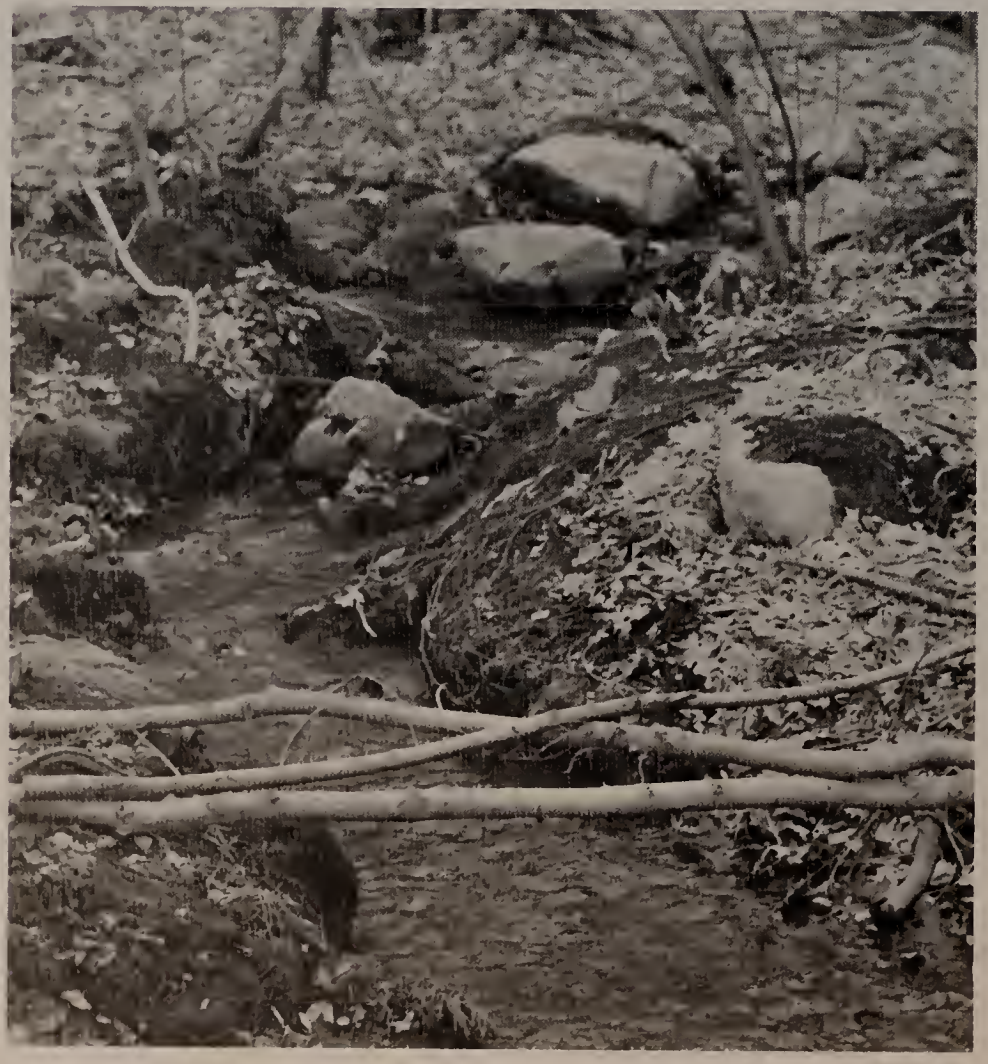
Time it was and what a time it was . . .

It was a time of innocence

A time of confidences.

Long ago it must be I have a photograph



Preserve your memories

They're all that's left you . . .

SAMPLERS AND VERSES

It's kind of hard to say how you feel.
The place you complained about so often,
The four years you thought were so long,
It's the end and you've come to love it all.

That first year with its many adjustments
With all its ups and downs.
The year was so new and exciting,
It was the start of a journey to another beginning.

That year number two was there,
With all its classes, grades, and bells.
Sometimes it was all so depressing,
But stuck between were the days of laughter.

Well there you were — upperclassmen — finally,
New rings and new plans.
You were really getting involved.
The spirit, hope and anticipation all added up, didn't they?

Now we are here, almost done, yet haven't even started.
Worries, colleges, the — Am I going to make it?
Glad to be getting out in the world at last.
But scared to lose all that you have been through.

Your friends and family,
The good times and the bad,
make up those jewels of memory,
That will dwell in the treasure chest of life and time.

Our time here is finished,
the good and the bad.
It passed so quickly
those times that we had.
I wish they could last —
the friendships and fun.
But soon our time is finished;
but then again we've just begun.
The memories we'll cherish and the true friends will remain things of the heart like these will never perish.

I fell like an angel descending to Hell,
Out in the world with the roses sweet smell,
Broke through the clouds from out under the sun,
Where the wind whips the trees and the river runs.

Through the city with cars and trains,
Into the fog that comes with the rains,
Through the soil that grows the flowers,
Bound to meet that unearthly power.

Down through the rocks, and the hardened core,
A thunderous voice booms with a roar,
I fell to my knees, shaken and weeping,
Come to find out, I had only been dreaming.

NIGHT

The daylight sun melts into a diminishing crimson ball on the horizon.
The picturesque sunset turns into dusk and dusk into twilight
Through the dimness pierce the electric stars lighting the overpopulation of flashing streets.
Will there ever be a dark night?

G.E.C.

This story has ended and so also this time
as with all good stories;
one scared lonely tear remains as the last page is turned and the cover closed.

While one game doesn't make a season the Wachusett Regional High School Mountaineers seem ready to reach the summit of schoolboy football success.

Confidence in the Mountaineers future fortunes is being touted by the fans, students, players and coaching staff alike. A first game win over a talented St. Peter's squad is reason enough for the optimism.

The 1975 girls' varsity field hockey team completed a successful season with a 8-1-4 record. With many underclassmen planning to attend field hockey camp in the summer, next year's team should be an experienced one.

SENIORS

"With alacrity, boys," was commonly heard upon the Wachusett football field this season. Coach Bealieu, with the assistance of Coach Lewis changed the whole attitude toward football at Wachusett. The 1975 season will be remembered as the start of a new beginning. A lot of hard work on the part of players and coaches proved to be successful with a 5 and 5 season.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

PATTY DORWARD
MINDY McNAUGHER
JANET WATT

THE SENIOR CLASS ENJOYS THIS OPPORTUNITY TO THANK THE MANY ADVERTISERS, SPONSORS, PATRONS, AND PROFESSIONALS, FOR THEIR GENEROUS CONTRIBUTION.

WITHOUT THIS SPONSORSHIP, OUR YEARBOOK WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE.

THANK YOU,
THE SENIOR CLASS

Your friends say they'll keep in touch, but you know they won't. Your teachers say come back and see them. And you know you won't.
Maybe someday it won't matter. But right now, it hurts a little.
